

Produced by National Radio Project
Making Contact

Making Contact/National Radio Project
 1714 Franklin Street, #100-251
 Oakland, CA 94612

Listen to the sound of social change:
www.radioproject.org

For more information, call (510) 251-1332

We Create Making Contact, a weekly radio program that goes beyond breaking news to delve deeply into today's most pressing social, political, environmental, and economic issues.

We Broadcast our programs on over 200 radio stations, in thirty-nine states. We deliver our podcasts to thousands of subscribers and our website provides hundreds of radio documentaries for free use by listeners, teachers, and community organizers.

We Train community groups in how to make media that gets their voices heard and strengthens their organizing. We also nurture emerging journalists and provide a platform that allows their work to be heard nationwide.

We Collaborate with communities and organizations across the country to cover the stories that are being ignored by corporate-owned media. Our media moves people to join with others and take action.

INDEPENDENT MEDIA

How You Can Get Involved

Pitch a Story. We rely on you to tell us which stories are being ignored and which voices need to be heard. Contact us to share your ideas.

Host a Listening Party. Connect with friends and family and discuss the issues explored in a Making Contact program.

Be an Online Ambassador. Let others know about Making Contact programs, our website, and our free resources. Post links to our programs and podcasts on your website. Become our fan on Facebook.

Bring Making Contact to Your Local Radio Station.

Call us about how you can get Making Contact aired in your local public or community radio station. We depend on you to help us grow!

Share Making Contact with Your Classroom and Community Group.

Our programs make great educational and outreach tools.

Volunteer with Making Contact.

We welcome your help with research, outreach, publicity, transcribing interviews, recording events, and translation.

Join Us—Make a Donation.

If you value our in-depth journalism, please make a tax-deductible donation.

Please also contact us about how to give a gift of stock or to include us in your will.

Your support makes this work possible!

